BARBARA KEITH Named Executive Director of STRANAHAN HOUSE

The oldest building in Broward County now has a new executive director. Barbara Keith, formerly Director of Development at Bonnet House, was named to the position at the historic Stranahan House.

Originally a trading post for Seminole Indians, the Stranahan House was converted into a home by Frank and Ivy Stranahan in 1906. It now is listed on the prestigious National Register of Historic Places.

This year commemorates the 100th anniversary of the arrival of Stranahan, the county's first permanent white settler. Events and lectures commemorating the date are planned throughout 1993.

MS. SATIN Goes To Washington

The work of Dania artist Claire Jeanine Satin travels to Washington, D.C., for an exhibit at the National Museum of Women and the Arts, May 10 through September 30. Sculpture, Bookworks and Related Objects premiered at the Art and Culture Center of Hollywood this winter, and will be featured at two other museum venues in Florida this year. It was underwritten by a grant from the Richard A. Florsheim Art Fund.

Local art lovers who missed Satin's exhibition at the Art and Culture Center can see her one-woman show at the Ann Norton Sculpture Gardens in West Palm Beach, April 8 to May 8.

Last year, Satin created a large-scale wall sculpture for the University of Alaska's Math and Sciences Department in Fairbanks. She printed mathematical formulas, notations, texts and drawings on a dozen aluminum wall panels to create the impressive sculpture.

CULTURAL CLOSE-UP Innerrmotion

Innerrmotion is the nation's only incest survivor dance theater company. The dancers, who were sexually abused as children, express recovery from incest-related issues, such as isolation, self-acceptance and flashbacks. Performances are given locally and nationally.

Innerrmotion was founded by Fort Lauderdale resident Sharon Daugherty, M.S., an incest survivor, therapist and dancer, and is based on her own healing process. The company strives to educate family members, friends and therapists; shatter the public secrecy surrounding sexual abuse; and give hope to other survivors. "Our main goal is to help break the silence about sexual abuse and open communication among everyone," explained Daugherty. "We're really happy that the community has been so supportive of our work."

For more information and upcoming performance dates, contact Innerrmotion at (305) 537-0636, P.O. Box 030232, Fort Lauderdale, FL, 33303.
